People who appreciate the value of family and neighbors.

The farming community of Nappanee, Indiana is home to the Miller family, the owners of Newmar, who strive for faithfulness to the tenets established by its founders in 1968 – things like a strong sense of community, forgiveness and fairness, honesty and integrity, and peace with one's neighbors. When working with a company based on these Christian principles, it shows in how they do business and how they build their products. The Millers invite you to visit and see just how much the Newmar family loves building quality RVs for people who love the RV lifestyle.
