MONTANA HIGH COUNTRY TECHNOLOGY

When the engineering, sales and purchasing team at Montana challenged themselves to reinvent the way RVs are built, the mission was clear: To create a new fifth wheel that offers unheard of weight savings without compromising size, integrity, livability or luxury. After thousands of hours of research and countless laps on the grueling Bosch Proving Grounds test track, the results are in: Montana High Country's Helium Technology combines advanced materials and manufacturing technology to significantly reduce weight while maintaining all the features, comforts and luxury you expect in a Montana. Every Montana High Country model offers 3 or 4 slide-outs, full profile design, abundant storage and high-end luxury - yet weighs less than 9,900 pounds!

MONTANA HIGH COUNTRY LUXURY

Montana High Country is designed with spacious, well-planned living spaces. Look around and find yourself surrounded by the finer things such as designer light fixtures, glazed cherry cabinetry and plush furniture. Residential wood blinds not only create a modern and smart look, but the versatility and function of wood blinds allow you to shed as much or as little light and privacy as you wish. The countertops are the showpiece of any great kitchen and here you'll find stunning solid surface countertops with matching sink covers and a single lever pull out sprayer faucet. The upscale look is further enhanced by the stylish backsplash behind the range and elegant oil rubbed bronze cabinet and drawer pulls throughout.

Max Turn technology features an integrated frame and front cap design to allow for an industry best short bed truck to fifth wheel angle because the front rail of the Montana High Country frame is curved to provide more radius, making a 90 degree turn no problem with short bed trucks.

- Montana High Country has a heavy-duty extended hitch pin.

The MOR/ryde CRE 3000 suspension increases dynamic wheel travel by up to 3" by utilizing rubber and a unique travels lot to cushion shock. Increased travel means smoother towing and better protection from damaging road shock.
